UNION STATE CONVENTION.

The Union voters of the various Counties of the State of Oregon, who are in favor of the continued and vigorous prosecution of the present war to the complete and final suppression of rebellion and extinction of treason, and in favor of hearty and efficient support of the authorities of the General Government in their efforts to protect and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States and preserve and perpetuate the Union, and who are willing to combine for the election of men of like principles to all offices in this State, are respectfully and earnestly invited to hold conventions according to usual custom for election of delegates to a State Union Convention to be held at Albany, in Linn county, on Wednesday, the [illegible] day of March, 1864, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Representative to Congress and State Printer, electing delegates to the National Union Convention, and providing for the selection of candidates for Presidential Electors, and transacting such other business as the Convention shall deem proper.

We respectfully recommend the holding of County Conventions on the 12th day of March 1864.

We also respectfully recommend the holding of Conventions of delegates from the judicial districts at the time and place of holding the State convention for the nomination of candidates for Supreme Judges and Prosecuting Attorneys in the several districts where vacancies shall exist.

The several counties will be entitled to delegates in the State Convention as follows: Benton 5, Clackamas 9, Clatsop 1, Columbia 1, Coos 1, Curry 1, Douglas 8, Jackson 10, Josephine 5, Lane 8, Linn 12, Marion 1[illegible], Multnomah 8, Polk [illegible], Tillamook 1, Wasco 10, Washington 4, Yamhill 6, Umatilla 2, Baker 5—Total 112.

By order of the Union State Central Committee.

JOHN H. MOORES, Chairman.
A. G. HOVEY, Secretary.

SALEM, January 6th, 1864.

New Road to the Missouri River.

We learn that the Legislative Assembly of Idaho Territory have adopted a memorial to Congress urging the expediency of a road from Lewiston to the head of the Bitter Root valley, and asking for assistance in its construction. We are indebted to an intelligent friend of the project for some facts in regard to the proposed line which will, we presume, be of interest to our readers.

Such a route would pass via Elk City, and through the Bitter Root mountains, not far from the Southern Nez Perces trail; the whole distance will not exceed 200 miles, a portion of which for 75 miles is now traveled with ease by teams with loaded wagons.

The object of the road is the establishment of a connection between the navigable waters of the Columbia and of the Missouri, at the Three Forks of the Yellowstone, if it is found to be possible. A company is already organized for the purpose of constructing a portage railroad at the Falls of the Missouri, above Fort Benton; if this is completed the Missouri will be open as far as Gallatin City on the east of the Rocky mountains, a distance of not more than 350 miles from Lewiston, by the proposed road.

The opening of the Yellowstone river to navigation will also be attempted the ensuing season to the 110° meridian, as it is believed from explorations already made that this stream is better to navigate above Fort Union than the Jefferson Fork of the Missouri. If the attempt succeeds, the route will be more direct from the North-western States to the mining regions of Idaho, than any other.

There is a good road from the head of Bitter Root valley, through Roe's hole and Big-hole passes of the Rocky Mountains, down the valley of the Big-hole, or Wisdom river, to Gallatin City, which was traveled by wagons last summer, the whole route lies through an open country, and penetrates the mining regions east of the Rocky Mountains. The entire length of road necessary to be constructed, to secure communication between the two great rivers, does not exceed 125 miles, and more than one half of this may be regarded as a good natural road. The remainder would require grading, and the removal of timber to be made passable. These things are practicable, and the whole road could be constructed at one third the cost of the Mullan Road, which has not, by any means, been of the advantage to the country which was anticipated by its zealous and indefatigable projector. If the proposed road is made, we believe from what we have learned in regard to it, that it will be of vast benefit to the whole north Pacific country, we therefore hope it will be favorably considered by Congress, and all who have power in the matter.

ANNUAL GOLD HARVEST.—In the year 1863 the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s steamers carried away from San Francisco in treasure the sum of $41,569,783 07, of which $31,000,000 went to England and 10,500,000 to New York. This shipment to England was to avoid the war risk.

The teams sent out from Walla Walla to keep the new road across the Blue Mountains in a passable condition have returned, for want of sufficient encouragement, and the Statesman of the 9th inst. says since that time considerable snow has probably fallen upon the mountains.

Saddle Trains are beginning to be talked of in the upper Columbia country. Arrangements are being made at the Dalles by which the directors of the Boise road company expect to put regular trains upon their road as soon as travel sets in.

WHAT GEN. GRANT HAS DONE.—It is said that General Grant has captured, since his campaign in the West commenced, no less than four hundred and seventy two cannon and ninety thousand prisoners from the enemy.

Shielding Dishonest Office-holders

[illegible]

The Appeal speaks the wholesome honest truth, as it always does. No friend of the Government whose patriotism is worth considering, is disposed to justify rogues in office more than he would traitors in the rebel camps, or voting here so as to help the rebels. When any dishonesty has been discovered, we believe the friends of the Administration have been a thousand fold more prompt to discard and repudiate the act and its author than the adherents of the Buchanan dynasty were to condemn Floyd and his accomplices in wicked infamy, and faultfinding comes with very bad grace from them, especially as close investigation will prove that most of the corrupt deeds done by office-holders, since Mr Lincoln was inaugurated, have been the work of old Democrats, who learned their political and moral tactics before they united with the Republican party, and in fact now operate in its ranks, chiefly because they there find an appropriate sphere for the peculiar habits of speculation and dishonesty, which a Democratic education formed. We very well remember when H B Stanton was one of the most thorough Democrats in the State of New York. Frank Pierce was the idol of his political admiration. Probably he would be of the same persuasion now if his old party was in the majority, but it is not, and as his notion of political duty requires him to be on the strong side he professes to be a Union man, with Democratic principles, which naturally have led him into the difficulties above stated. That is about all of it, but no Republican or Union man is compelled or wishes to justify him, if really guilty; they will regret that he tried to bring his Democratic practices into the honest ranks of patriotic men.

A GOLD WATCH FOR THE PRESIDENT.—A Mr. Hoes, a jeweler of Chicago, who is up to all sorts of dodges, in the way of advertising, some time ago offered a $50 gold watch to the largest contributor to the great Sanitary Fair held in that city. After it was over he "calculated" that President Lincoln was the largest contributor, because his Thanksgiving Proclamation made Thanksgiving day, and the Fair was held on that day—and further, that Mr Lincoln donated the original draft of the Emancipation Proclamation, that sold for $3,000, which was the largest single contribution to the funds realized by the Fair. Accordingly, he decided that the watch belonged to the President, and he sent it on to Washington—not the $50 watch, but a finer one worth about $150—with this inscription upon it:

"Presented to Abraham Lincoln, as a memorial from the North western Sanitary Fair, in consideration of his being the largest contributor to that enterprise."

A letter accompanied it and explained the matter. Mr Arnold, the Congressman from Chicago, presented the watch with due ceremony, and the sharp jeweler is since receiving a great many newspaper notices gratis.

THE GREAT ORGAN.—This monster instrument, the largest in the United States, recently set up in the Music Hall, in Boston, cost $80,000. It is a choir of nearly six thousand vocal throats. Its largest windpipes are thirty-two feet in length, and a man can pass through them. Its finest tubes are too small for a baby's whistle. Eighty-nine stops produce the various changes and combinations of which its immense orchestra is capable, from the purest solo of a singing child to the loudest chorus, in which all the groups of voices have their part in the full flow of the harmonies.

HOW WE SHALL CONQUER.—Horace Greeley delivered an address before a meeting of the Women's Loyal National League, in New York on the 10th of November, in which he said:

We are not trying to liberate three or four millions of slaves but to liberate thirty millions of people who have been educated to call falsehood truth and darkness light by the overshadowing influence of slavery in this country. We are trying to bring a whole nation out of the den of slavery into the light of liberty, and we are succeeding as rapidly and surely as any great enterprise ever succeeded on the face of the earth. Whenever the mass of the people realize that slavery is a terrible evil it will vanish like the dew. Constitutions, laws, States rights, anything you please, will be found no obstacles, but rather helps, whenever the American people shall realize that their interests, good name, prosperity and safety demand that slavery be exiled from the country.

FEARFUL LOOKING OUT FOR JUDGMENT.—It seems that the Richmond clergy occasionally indulge in political preaching. The subject of a Sunday's discourse recently preached at the rebel capital was—"The Northern States of America the most likely location of the Lake of Fire and Brimstone," in which the beast and the false prophet will be tormented." As Secession is the 'Beast' just now tormenting this unhappy country, and Jeff Davis is the 'Prophet,' we shouldn't wonder if the North was the most likely place to give them a scorching!

MASSACHUSETTS.—There is a story of old Stephen Girard, that a messenger once rode with an excitement to his country place to acquaint him that one of his ships had come safely into port. The messenger found Girard in the fields, [illegible] [illegible] What's the matter now? [illegible] The old man quietly went on with his hay saying, [illegible] [illegible] than usual for the Union and against Copperheads [illegible] Ev'g Post.

We learn that it is the intention of the O S N Company to start a steamer for Wallula to-day, from Celilo. The upper Columbia is supposed to be free from ice.

Day Dawning in Arkansas

We have [illegible] recent [illegible] of Gov Gantt, on behalf of the Union in this State. He has made another speech which is largely quoted in the eastern papers. Our readers will be glad to see the following brief extracts, and also to learn that the President, early in December, granted a pardon exempting Gen'l Gantt from the penalty of treason, which he had incurred by accepting and exercising the office of Brigadier General in the rebel service. We quote part of the speech in regard to

[illegible]

As Secessionists, we supposed we were out of the Union. We went out to protect slavery. [illegible]

[illegible]

There is a large and growing party in the North that is disposed to reduce the seceded States to the condition of Territories. The central idea of this party is to get rid of slavery, as the source of all our calamities. [illegible]

INCREASING LOYALTY OF THE PEOPLE OF ARKANSAS

Upon this point, among other things he said: "The people of Arkansas are ready to return to their all giance to the Government, and to renew their devotion which shall know hereafter neither change nor decay. The loyalty to Jeff Davis in Arkansas does not extend practically beyond the shadow of his army, while the hatred of him is as wide spread as it is intense. The Union sentiment is manifesting itself on all sides and by every indication—in Union meetings—in desertions from the Confederate army—in taking the oath of allegiance unsolicited—in organizing for home defense and enlisting in the Federal army. Old flags that have been hid in the crevices of rocks and been worshipped by our mountain people as holy relics are flung to the breeze, and followed to the Union army with an enthusiasm that beggars all description. The little county of Perry, that votes only about six hundred, and which has been turned wrong side out in search of conscripts by Hindman and his fellow murderers and oppressors, with their retinue of salaried gentlemen and negro boys, sent down a company of ninety four men a few days ago. Where they came from and how they kept their old flag during these three years of terror, persecution and plunder, I can't tell; but they were the proudest looking set of men I ever saw, and full of fight. And Montgomery county answers to Perry, and Conway and Columbia, and Carroll and Jefferson, and Clark and Sebastian and Phillips, Pike and Independence prolong the shout of a redeemed people and send up their hundreds, to be yet followed by their thousands, to assist in breaking the chains of their oppressors."

TRIBUTE TO ORIGINAL UNION MEN

But there has always been a healthy Union sentiment in our State. It has flourished when the sun of our great political system was obscured from it by clouds and gloom. In the darkness of political storm and night its lamp has burned on brightly and beautifully. It has survived amid rocks and caves, and mountain gorges and rugged banks of homeless streams. It has "waited and waited" with a faith as astounding and as constant as ever nerved the heart of patriot or saint. Often unlettered and untaught, it has put to shame the pretenses of sophistry and confounded the philosophy of sages. Despotism could not crush or cruelty erase it. Nor threats nor entreaties, nor chains nor dungeons, nor the hope of life, nor the fear of death could chain it to the mad career of rebellion. But through the crucible of anarchy, persecution and blood it has arisen, purified and ennobled to assert its supremacy.

Noble men! Worthy sons of worthy sires! Bright exemplars for all ages! An erring brother returning from his wanderings after a much deluded does not fear to [illegible] his honor and his manhood to pay you the tribute of the sound lines of your judgment and the soundness and sublimity of your patriotism. Nor does he feel abased before the world and all good men whatever may have been his past acts and impressions to extend to you his hand, and here, after so long a parting and so much of mutual suffering, having met [illegible] [illegible] pray Almighty God to cure the madness of the [illegible] to stay the effusion of fraternal blood, to incline men's hearts to peace and brotherly love, and to give us once more a united, prosperous and happy country."

A SINGULAR FACT.—In a recent letter, Hon Robert J Walker, late of Mississippi and Ex-Secretary of the Treasury, makes the following statement, which will astonish a great many persons: "From long residence in the South, and from having traversed every Southern State I know it to be true [illegible] [illegible] Texas especially, this is a great truth."

CHINESE FUNERAL FESTIVAL.—One of these ceremonies is thus described: "The whole Chinese population turned out, and having [illegible] [illegible] What was done with the provender eventually, is not stated—further than to say that it was not thrown away.

Daily Mail to Oregon

[illegible]

[illegible] Sacramento to Folsom, Folsom to Lincoln, Lincoln to Marysville, Marysville to Shasta, Shasta to Yreka, Yreka to Oakland, Oakland to Corvallis, Corvallis to Portland. Such a letting will destroy the completeness of the daily line drive off the four horse coaches, increases the schedule time and greatly disappoint the people most interested. Under the present contract the mail has been carried in coaches in the summer and wagons and sleighs in the winter, and for the past two years at a heavy pecuniary sacrifice to the contractors from their being paid in legal tender notes instead of gold coin. Nevertheless they have continued to take the mail for nine months in the year have delivered it at each end of the route from eighteen to forty eight hours within schedule time. The contract was entered into on a gold basis, and were strict justice administered the Department would make its payments equivalent to gold coin. By making its payments in legal tenders, the Department subjects those contractors to an annual loss of not less than thirty thousand dollars. The continuation of this daily mail route to Oregon is a matter which will commend itself to the attention of the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Oregon and California, for their constituents are deeply interested in having at least their present postal facilities continued. These constituents have a right to expect that their mail service will be increased rather than diminished.—Sac Union

Rebel Poetry

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says the following was received from across the lines at Chattanooga:

OUR MONEY

Our treasury is full of old rags,
So the Yankees don't think it worth while to come,
Jeff's tore up his Richmond bags,
Having nothing like cash to put in them.
Our farmers are smashed up, [illegible]
But this is all nothing, they say,
For bankrupts since Adam are thousands
But 'tis all in a family way

Our debts not a shilling take from us
As statesmen in the matter explain
Bob Toombs owes it, [illegible] Thomas
Just owes it to Bob back again.
Since all thus have taken to owing
There's not a body that can pay,
And that is the way we're going,
All just in a family way.

Our Congressmen go away [illegible]
To put in the bag Southern budget,
And if it won't be bill['d] or [illegible]
The generous rogues would not grudge it.
'Tis nought but a family hop
And Jeff begin dancing, they say—
Hands round! Why the deuce should we stop?
'Tis all in a family way

Our rich cotton planters all tumble—
The poor ones have nothing to chew
And if they themselves do not grumble
Their stomachs would [illegible]
For sure to be hungry en famille
Is as good for the soul as a pray
And famine itself is but genteel
When one starves in a family way

But I've found out a secret for Jeff—
A secret for next budget day
Though he spurn my advice in a jiffy,
As he, too, is a sage in his way.
When next for the treasury seems he
Announces the levy to pay,
Just write on the bill nota bene
For it's all in a family way

Worth of Money.

We hear a good deal about the worth of property. A house is worth about ten thousand dollars, that lot is worth five thousand dollars, a farm is worth about eight thousand, a horse three hundred, a carriage five hundred, and so on endlessly. This is all very well in its way. But might not the question sometimes to be put the other way, how much is a man's money worth? There is a wider range in its value than most persons think, and, upon a little inquiry, I suspect that it will be found that all persons who possess money, or who long to possess it, have a way of measuring it not by dollars, but by its value in some sort of pleasure or article.

One man earns a thousand dollars, and says to himself: "There, that puts me one step out of debt." Money to him is a means of personal liberty. A man in debt is not a freeman. "The borrower is servant to the lender."

Another sees in a thousand dollars a snug little homestead, a home for his children, a shelter to his old age, a place to live in and a good place to die in. But his neighbor only sees one more link in the golden chain of wealth. It was only thirty nine thousand last month, he is worth forty thousand. And his joy is in the growing numerals. He imagines how it will sound, full, round and hearty, when men say, "he is worth a hundred thousand dollars." Nay, when it comes to that, he thinks five a better sound than one, and five hundred thousand dollars is a sound most musical to his ear—though he loves even better to call it half a million! The word million cuts a great swath in men's imaginations. All this estimate of money is sheer ambition. The man is vain. He thinks much of him self on account of money, not character. A man who is openly proud of money is secretly contemptuous of those who have none.

Another man wishes to see the world. Every dollar means travel. A thousand dollars means Europe. Two thousand dollars means Egypt, Palestine and Greece.

Boys dealing in small sums reckon in the same way. A penny means a stick of candy, sixpence is but another term for ball, a shilling means a kite, and fifty cents a jack knife.

The young "crack" sees in his money a skeleton wagon, a fast nag, a rousing trot, a jolly drink and a smashing party.

But many and many a weary soul sees in every shilling bread, rent, fuel, clothes. There be thousands who hold on to virtue by bands of dollars; a few more save them, a few less and they are lost. Their gayer sisters see feathered hats and royal silks in their money, or rather in their fathers' and their husbands'.

The poor scholar passes daily by the stall where books tempt his poverty. Poor clothes he is content to wear, plain and even meager diet he is willing to subsist upon, and as for all the gay dissipations and extravagant wastes of fashionable life, he looks upon them without even understanding what they mean, as a child looks upon the milky way in the heavens, a glowing band of far-away and unexplored wonders. But O, those books! He looks longingly at morning, he peers at them with a gentle covetousness at night. He imagines new devices for earning a few dollars. He ponders whether there is not some economy which can save a few shillings. And when good luck at last brings a score of dollars to him, with what fervor of haste does he get rid of them, fairly running to the stall, and fearing, at every step, lest some fortunate man should have seized the prize. Wasteful man! that night saw too much oil burnt out in poring over the joyful treasure. Books are what his money is worth. But others see different visions. Money means flowers to them. New roses, the latest dahlia, the new camelia, or others of the great bountiful band of flowers that fill the florist's paradise—the garden.

Some men see engravings in money, some, rare copies of old books, some, curious missals. Others, when you say money think of fruit trees, of shrubbery and arboretums and pinetums, and fruticetums. And we have reason to believe that there are some poor wretches, who, not content with any one insanity, see pretty much all these things by turns.

But there are nobler sights than these to be seen through the golden lens of wealth; a father and a mother placed in comfort in their old age, a young man helped through college or established in business, a friend extricated from ruin, a poor woman saved from beggary, and made a suppliant before God for mercies on your head, every day that she lives, the sick and unfortunate succored, the orphan educated, the school founded, the village lined with shade trees, a free library established, and a thousand such like things. A man is not to be known by how much money he has, but by what money is worth to him. If it is worth only selfishness, meanness, stinginess, vanity and a haughty state, a man is not rich if he owns a million dollars. If it means generosity, public spirit, social comfort and refinement, then he is rich on a few hundred. You must put your hand into a man's heart to find out how much he is worth, not into his pocket.

Jenny June says: "the war, which has already created a social revolution—which has reduced so many wives, daughters, and sisters from comfort and affluence to want—will soon force the question, whether work for woman shall be considered honor or dishonor. We believe that it is honor—honor so far as it is well done, and properly employs a woman's natural capacities. But there are two things to be done. One is, that women shall set about their work earnestly, and with a purpose, and thus, as has been well said, 'dignify their calling;' the other, that employers shall cease to make the earnings of the most inefficient girls in their employ the standard for all the rest."

SKETCH OF "THE YANKEE."—A writer in the Church Review thus concludes an article on New England:

Patriots, philosophers, philanthropists and scholars have been children among the granite gorges of this New England, and wherever truth and honor are battling, the sons of Puritans will be found eager in the fray. But we are erratic—pardon us, we would talk with you of humbler men, indigenous plants, that nature has scattered upon this sterile surface, live Yankees! truly full of character, burning with enterprise and curiosity. We meet them, being in person as a bird [illegible] and with a parched countenance ready for sorrow or sadness or [illegible] step, thoughtful but not abstract; patient because cunning; ever watchful, slow to [illegible] tending to conflict, but resolute [illegible]. Their dress always precise and never foppish, choosing their own fashions and seldom changing them, their toilet betrays them everywhere they go. The ease of their language is their desire to please and their only words foreshadow a profit. They are all mechanics; the history of man's necessities is the history of their inventions, while much that is truly curious inevitably comes from such busy hands and brains. The live Yankee has no home; his love of invention breeds a love of change; and wherever a human trail shows itself we find him panting on the track. He never pines in foreign lands or grows sentimental; the beauty of a river is its capacity for a steamboat, its sloping banks checked into village lots, and its classic water might do the drudgery of a cotton mill. He looks upon the marble pyramid and guesses at its height, calculates the stone by the perch, and sells the magnificent relic at a profit. He climbs the mountain's height, crossed by beleaguering hosts, and is struck at once with the propriety of a tunnel; he sits beneath the sheltering vine and listens to the whispering sea, looks upon the warm promise of the grapes and forgetting the holy memories of the land of song, his fretful slumbers turn the smiling vintage into wine, and make for him a happy bargain. You shall find him in Constantinople making up in grimace what he lacks in language, while spreading a plaster with his tongue for the man. [illegible] go to the Sandwich Islands or to Australia, and listen to his arguments in favor of [illegible]; go where you will, from the north to the sultry south, from earth's morning to her night, and the everlasting Jonathan you will find arguing or trading. His religion is practical, he mourns over the heathen, and is ready to convert them by the [illegible]. He loves liberty with an impetuous enthusiasm, and fully believes his country can whip the universe. If the phlegmatic and well bred Englishman talks of roast beef and his ancestors, Jonathan has a pumpkin pie and a grandfather to match them. If the Frenchman grows frantic over a fricassee of frog quarters, Jonathan pulls out a [illegible] and a greening; if the dusky Italian mentions the mad belchings of Vesuvius, Jonathan is ready to quench it with the bellowing torrent of Niagara. In argument always earnest, in reasoning always spacious, this progressive phenomenon tramps the world with the skeleton of a patent right in his carpet-bag, and in his ever open hand a pleasant "How are ye?" If you would save your pride from being humbled, risk it not in a dicker with Jonathan; his razor is the true Damascus, strapped upon the wand of Midas for a golden harvest; his sanctity is often shrewdness, and his sweet complaisance is quite often the reflected halo of somebody's shilling. Constitutionally and by education honest, he is always penitent for the deeds done in the body; his hospitalities and charities are ceremonial duties, his piety is the severity of a Sabbath, but his bias is the thirsting impulse of a creative genius chained to the more sordid passion for lucre. The live Yankee is but the eccentricity of a truly wonderful people, the moral and physical impress of New England is stamped upon the universe; we owe her our nationality, and the world owes her admiration and respect."

THE SYMPATHIES OF A CHILD TAKING A WRONG DIRECTION.—The New York Independent has the following from a mother:

"But did I tell you what a time I had with my little Joe?"

"No; what was it?"

"Why I was showing him the picture of the martyrs thrown to the lions, and was talking very solemnly to him, trying to make him feel what a terrible thing it was, when he said all at once: 'Oh, ma! just look at that poor little lion, way behind there, he won't get any!'"

The following is a model certificate: "Dear Doctor—I will be 175 years old next October. For over 84 years I have been an invalid unable to step except when moved with a lever. But a year ago I heard of the Graniculur Syrup. I bought a bottle, smelt the cork, and found myself again a man. I can now run 12½ miles an hour, and throw 19 somersaults without stopping."

AYER'S Cathartic Pills

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK. Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 1, [illegible]

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing. Yours with great respect,

ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., [illegible]

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Fraternally yours,

ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 15, [illegible]

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here. GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her.

ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Epis. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years.

VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the inexorable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not do more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.
